MESSAGE FROM CHAIRMAN

THAILAND

Review of 2023

Thailand's economy grew 1.9% in 2023, lower than the 2.6% in 2022 mainly due to declining exports, weak government spending and rising interest rates. The services sector was still a key economic driver, thanks to recovering international tourist arrivals and improving post-COVID domestic consumption.

Outlook for 2024

UOB Global Economics & Market Research (GEMR) forecasts a GDP growth of 3.6% yoy in 2024 on expectations of more balanced growth as export growth turns positive, while government spending normalises after disappearing in the election year of 2023.

The services sector will remain a key economic growth driver, driven by tourism. The number of international tourist arrivals is making a recovery to the 2024 target of 35m set by Tourism Authority of Thailand (TAT), vs 28m in 2023. The Jan 24 data on international tourists (3.03m, +42% yoy) and Chinese tourists (0.50m, +454% yoy) will not only underpin but also provide upside to TAT's target, which is positive to tourism-related businesses.

We expect the Bank of Thailand to maintain its benchmark rate at 2.50% throughout 2024.

Stock Market Review for 2023

The SET Index declined around 15.15% in 2023 following a delay in the government's formation and earnings downgrades by companies, especially in the energy sector which was plagued by lower crude oil prices.

In terms of sector performance, only two sectors saw positive returns. The outperformers were professional service (+38.54%) and electronics (+4.37%). The worst performers were industrial material and machine (-37.42%) which was mainly pressured by the fraud case of STARK (-99.2%), packaging (-34.95%), and media (-20.41%).

In 2023, net buyers were local investors (Bt116b) and local institutions (Bt81b), while foreign investors (Bt192b) and proprietary trading (Bt5b) were net sellers. The market was mainly pressured by foreign investors' fund outflow.

2023 Operating Performance

Net profit decreased during the corresponding periods from 217,211,672 Baht to 90,859,956.34 Baht. In line with the Company's policy of paying a dividend not less than 20% of net profit after tax, a dividend of Baht 0.04 in respect of the financial year ended 31 December 2023 will be proposed for approval at the shareholder's meeting.

Stock Market and Business Outlook for 2024

We foresee sideways movement in the Thai equity market in 2024. While accelerating GDP growth would be positive to corporate earnings outlook, the wide policy rate gap between the US and Thailand would tend to weaken the baht and in turn limit foreign fund inflow. Therefore, the Thailand equity strategy for 2024 would be the bottom-up approach or selective buying.

Our investment themes for 2024 are: a) quality names with low debt levels and high cash flow visibility; b) sectors that benefit from a weakening baht, such as export (food & electronics) and services (tourism & healthcare); and c) defensive plays such as utilities and telecommunications.

Appreciation

On behalf of the Board, I would like to thank our stakeholders for their contributions, and we look forward to their continuing support and would like to thank my fellow board members, management and staff for their support all these years.

Mr. Viroj Tangjetanaporn

Chairman of the Board of Directors

(2) MARKETING AND COMPETITION

Brokerage business

Thailand's economy grew 1.9% in 2023, lower than the 2.6% in 2022 mainly due to declining exports, weak government spending and rising interest rates. The services sector was still a key economic driver, thanks to recovering international tourist arrivals and improving post-COVID domestic consumption.

UOB Global Economics & Market Research (GEMR) forecasts a GDP growth of 3.6% yoy in 2024 on expectations of more balanced growth as export growth turns positive, while government spending normalises after disappearing in the election year of 2023.

The services sector will remain a key economic growth driver, driven by tourism. The number of international tourist arrivals is making a recovery to the 2024 target of 35m set by Tourism Authority of Thailand (TAT), vs 28m in 2023. The Jan 24 data on international tourists (3.03m, +42% yoy) and Chinese tourists (0.50m, +454% yoy) will not only underpin but also provide upside to TAT's target, which is positive to tourism-related businesses.

We expect the Bank of Thailand to maintain its benchmark rate at 2.50% throughout 2024.

The SET Index declined around 15.15% in 2023 following a delay in the government's formation and earnings downgrades by companies, especially in the energy sector which was plagued by lower crude oil prices.

In terms of sector performance, only two sectors saw positive returns. The outperformers were professional service (+38.54%) and electronics (+4.37%). The worst performers were industrial material and machine (-37.42%) which was mainly pressured by the fraud case of STARK (-99.2%), packaging (-34.95%), and media (-20.41%).

In 2023, net buyers were local investors (Bt116b) and local institutions (Bt81b), while foreign investors (Bt192b) and proprietary trading (Bt5b) were net sellers. The market was mainly pressured by foreign investors' fund outflow.

We foresee sideways movement in the Thai equity market in 2024. While accelerating GDP growth would be positive to corporate earnings outlook, the wide policy rate gap between the US and Thailand would tend to weaken the baht and in turn limit foreign fund inflow. Therefore, the Thailand equity strategy for 2024 would be the bottom-up approach or selective buying.

Our investment themes for 2024 are: a) quality names with low debt levels and high cash flow visibility; b) sectors that benefit from a weakening baht, such as export (food & electronics) and services (tourism & healthcare); and c) defensive plays such as utilities and telecommunications.

(2) Overall derivative market conditions Year 2023

In 2023, derivative trading volume totaled 129,491,241 contracts compared to 136,316,012 contracts in 2022, while average daily trading volume was 532,886 contracts (565,627 contracts) or decreased by 5.79% YoY including:

Derivatives trading (Average per day)	Year 2023 (contracts)	Year 2022 (contracts)
SET50 Index Market Futures	255,732	227,170
Single Stock Market Futures	174,070	236,784
Precious Metal Futures	45,869	50,450
Currency Futures	47,044	42,282
Agricultural Futures	32	56
Deferred precious Metal Futures	9	7
SET50 Index Option	10,131	8,876

Open Interest as of December 28, 2023, came in 2,683,105 contracts, decreased by 32.65% from 3,983,852 contracts in a year 2022.

Even though derivative trading volumes decreased in 2023, some reference products were still able to grow well, such as SET50 Index Futures (13.51%) and Currency Futures (12.19%), which came from demand for using derivatives to protect investment risk. Meanwhile, products with lower trading volumes include Single Stock Futures (-25.88%) and Precious Metal Futures (-8.33%). The trading volume of the 4 products above accounted for 98.42% of the total trading volume. For Deferred Precious Metal Futures, although there was decent growth of 17.67%, there was still a very small trading proportion compared to the total trading volume.

As for the outlook for 2023, we see that derivatives market growth is likely to slow or even weaken due to the uneven economic recovery which will impact to the investment demand for Single Stock Futures, that have highest market share among derivative products. Moreover, even though the US rate hike cycle have passed its peak, a wide US-Thai policy rate differential will cause foreign outflow and limiting the opportunity for the Bank of Thailand to reduce interest rates. The uncertainties above will cause investors to remain cautious in speculating through derivative instruments to control using leverage.

For a long-term view, we are still bullish in derivative trading volume growth which the key drivers are: 1) many advantages of investing in derivative especially for hedging, 2) the ability of making profit in both upward and downward market, 3) investing less money in derivative than in generally equity instrument and 4) transaction fee of derivatives is cheaper than other stock market. In addition, the Thailand Futures Exchange (TFEX) is still pushing to change some regulations to improve the invest efficiency for local, institutional, and foreign investors.

(3) Industry overview and market competition

The Company's market share in 2023 declined to 1.91% compared to 2.20% in the same period of last year. We ranked 15 amongst the brokers in terms of market share, a slight decline from 14th the year before. Overall, of Thai equity market, the main activity came from foreign investors, which accounted for around 50.68%, compared to around 45.56% of the total value in 2022. The second rank was local investors, which accounted for around 33.82%, compared to around 39.03% of the total value in 2022. Institution investor's trading activity was 8.17% of the total trading value, compared to 7.46% in 2022.

The trading volume was concentrated in securities companies with high market share with a variety of financial products (eg. Derivative Warrant, Blocktrade, Equity linked note, etc.), some of which have foreign trading volume in the form of direct market access (DMA), resulting in volume growth which is clearly superior to the overall market. The proportion of trading volume of the top 10 securities companies with market share in 2023 was 65.76% from the previous year at 62.38%, increasing by 3.38%, while the total trading volume of securities companies with the top 10 highest market share dropped just 22.41%, which was better than the industry-wide trading volume which dropped 29.49%.

Competition in trading fees has stabilized. We see the introduction of innovation in trading technology and a wider range of financial products (including foreign securities and digital assets) to investors as a channel to diversify our revenue sources. The new competitor that uses zero commission strategy is going to start to charge lump sum commission depending on trading volume. This is a good sign as it means the price competition should be stabilized. Somehow, we are still closely monitoring the competitive situation in the industry.

As part of the UOB Kay Hian Group with a presence in other regional markets, we shall leverage our regional footprint to enhance the breadth of market knowledge and range of services that we can offer our clients.

Business trend

We expect market turnover in 2023 to slow down due to external pressure especially from the major central banks's policy that have to keep the policy rate at high level which will be a threat to global economy growth and risky asset prices. Moreover, the wide policy rate gap between US-Thai would be a pressure to induce an outflow which would result as a depreciation of THB currency.

In addition, the problem of unusual trading and the settlement of securities of More Return Public Company Limited that occurred during November 2022, which the Company has not been significantly affected by the transaction. However, the damage was widespread affecting the capital base of many companies. As a result, the securities company should have limited exposure and to be more cautious in purchasing securities transactions which will be a negative factor for growth. Currently, the case is under investigation by the Office of the Anti-Money Laundering Commission (AMLO).

Another important business risk factor is stock trading taxation. Thailand's cabinet resolved on 29 November 2022 approving a draft legislation to impose a financial transaction taxation (FTT) for securities traded in the Stock Exchange of Thailand. This will result in the resumption of financial transaction tax after more than 30 years of exemption. This will significantly increase the burden on investors and may also affect the demand for securities trading. The Federation of Capital Market Businesses (FETCO) estimates that it may result in a 30-40% loss in trading volume. Somehow, it is likely that the current government will not support tax collection policies. At the end of 2023, Prime Minister Mr. Settha Thavisin confirmed that the government has no policy to collect taxes related to stock trading transactions which includes financial transaction tax and capital gain tax.

We hope investors will be able to have the opportunity to invest in companies in Thailand and abroad. We start our global trade business since September 2022 which, in the first phase, allow our client to access opportunity from key markets in two main countries such as United States and Hong Kong.

To create greater awareness of our services and brand, UOB Kay Hian now participates in various media programs, both on television and radio. In addition, we have published our portfolio and investment perspective to a wider audience. Through more social media channels such as Facebook Live, YouTube Live to promote the quality products and services of our research team. We also have a marketing plan and various investment seminars which are designed to attract new customers. After we have done online marketing activities for the past 3 years, we have do more onsite seminar activities since the year 2023.

4. Management's analysis and explanation

The overall operating results in 2023 and 2022 of the Company, the total income amounted to Baht 1,143.53 million and Baht 1,386.71 million respectively. The net profit amount to Baht 90.86 million and Baht 217.21 million respectively. Mostly income of the Company came from securities business which the Company had market share of 1.91% in 2023 and 2.20% in 2022. The trading volume of Company in 2023 and 2022 was Baht 458,652 million and Baht 748,216 million respectively.

Operational Performance

• Revenue

The Company's revenue comprises of brokerage fees on securities and derivatives trading, service fees, interest income, gains and return on financial instruments such as gains (losses) on securities and derivatives and dividend income and other income such as fees from transferring share, fees from being a share registrar. Nevertheless, the major source of the Company's income is from securities brokerage. Previously, the Company's income from brokerage fees was equivalent to 49-79% of total income. Most of the clients were retail investors, which were equivalent to 71-85% of the Company's securities trading value, and the value of trade from institutional clients was 15-29% of the Company's total. The gains (losses) on trading securities and derivatives in the Company was a result of Block Trade transactions, trade error from securities and debt securities trading, and gain on debt securities.

In 2023, the Company's total revenue reached Baht 1,143.53 million, decreased by 17.54% compared to the previous year's amount. This was due mainly to the decreasing of revenue from brokerage fees while fees and service incomes and interest income was increased from last year.

Revenue from Brokerage Fees

Revenue from brokerage fees is directly related to the overall trading value in the stock exchange, and in turn is attracted by market conditions and other factors.

In 2023, the Company had revenue from commission totaling Baht 654.88 million, reducing 34.22% yoy. The Company's market share in 2023 declined to 1.91% compared to 2.20% in the same period of last year. We ranked 15 amongst the brokers in terms of market share, a slight decline from 14th the year before. Overall, of Thai equity market, the main activity came from foreign investors, which accounted for around 50.68%, compared to around 45.56% of the total value in 2022. The second rank was local investors, which accounted for around 33.82%, compared to around 39.03% of the total value in 2022. Institution investor's trading activity was 8.17% of the total trading value, compared to 7.46% in 2022.

The trading volume was concentrated in securities companies with high market share with a variety of financial products (eg. Derivative Warrant, Blocktrade, Equity linked note, etc.), some of which have foreign trading volume in the form of direct market access (DMA), resulting in volume growth which is clearly superior to the overall market. The proportion of trading volume of the top 10 securities companies with market share in 2023 was 65.76% from the previous year at 62.38%, increasing by 3.38%, while the total trading volume of securities companies with the top 10 highest market share dropped just 22.41%, which was better than the industry-wide trading volume which dropped 29.49%.

Competition in trading fees has stabilized. We see the introduction of innovation in trading technology and a wider range of financial products (including foreign securities and digital assets) to investors as a channel to diversify our revenue sources. The new competitor that uses zero commission strategy is going to start to charge lump sum commission depending on trading volume. This is a good sign as it means the price competition should be stabilized. Somehow, we are still closely monitoring the competitive situation in the industry.

Significant factors that may affect future financial status or company performance

We expect market turnover in 2023 to slow down due to external pressure especially from the major central banks's policy that have to keep the policy rate at high level which will be a threat to global economy growth and risky asset prices. Moreover, the wide policy rate gap between US-Thai would be a pressure to induce an outflow which would result as a depreciation of THB currency.

In addition, the problem of unusual trading and the settlement of securities of More Return Public Company Limited that occurred during November 2022, which the Company has not been significantly affected by the transaction. However, the damage was widespread affecting the capital base of many companies. As a result, the securities company should have limited exposure and to be more cautious in purchasing securities transactions which will be a negative factor for growth. Currently, the case is under investigation by the Office of the Anti-Money Laundering Commission (AMLO).

Another important business risk factor is stock trading taxation. Thailand's cabinet resolved on 29 November 2022 approving a draft legislation to impose a financial transaction taxation (FTT) for securities traded in the Stock Exchange of Thailand. This will result in the resumption of financial transaction tax after more than 30 years of exemption. This will significantly increase the burden on investors and may also affect the demand for securities trading. The Federation of Capital Market Businesses (FETCO) estimates that it may result in a 30-40% loss in trading volume. Somehow, it is likely that the current government will not support tax collection policies. At the end of 2023, Prime Minister Mr. Settha Thavisin confirmed that the government has no policy to collect taxes related to stock trading transactions which includes financial transaction tax and capital gain tax.

Auditor Remuneration

At the end of fiscal year December 31, 2023, the amount of remuneration paid to DELOITTE TOUCHE TOHMATSU JAIYOS AUDIT CO., LTD., which is the Company's auditor, amounted to Baht 2.14 million.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with Thai Standards on Auditing (“TSAs”). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor’s Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants including Independence Standards issued by the Federation of Accounting Professions (Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants) that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Key Audit Matter

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the financial statements of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Key Audit Matter	Audit Responses

Other Information

Management is responsible for the other information. The other information comprises information in the annual report, but does not include the financial statements and our auditor's thereon, which is expected to be made available to us after the date of this auditor's report.

Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information identified above when it becomes available and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit, or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

When we read the annual report, if we conclude that there is a material misstatement therein, we are required to communicate the matter to management and those charged with governance for correction of the misstatement.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with TFRSs, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with TSAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with TSAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.

- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company's to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

2. BASIS FOR PREPARATION AND PRESENTATION OF THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

- 2.1 The Company maintains its accounting records in Thai Baht and prepares its statutory financial statements in the Thai language in conformity with Thai Financial Reporting Standards and accounting practices generally accepted in Thailand and the additional information is disclosed in accordance with the regulations of the Office of the Securities and Exchange Commission. No. SorTor. 6/2562, dated January 8, 2019, regarding “The Form of Financial Statements for Securities Companies No.3”
- 2.2 An English version of the financial statements has been prepared from the statutory financial statements that are in the Thai language. In the event of a conflict or a difference in interpretation between the two languages, the Thai language statutory financial statements shall prevail.

2.3 Thai Financial Reporting Standards affecting the presentation and disclosure in the current year financial statements

During the year, the Company has adopted the revised financial reporting standards issued by the Federation of Accounting Professions which are effective for fiscal years beginning on or after January 1, 2023. These financial reporting standards were aimed at alignment with the corresponding International Financial Reporting Standards, with most of the changes directed towards revision of wording and terminology and clarification of accounting requirements. The adoption of these financial reporting standards does not have any significant impact on the Company's financial statements.

2.4 Thai Financial Reporting Standards announced in the Royal Gazette but not yet effective

Thai Financial Reporting Standard which will be effective for the financial statements for the period beginning on or after January 1, 2024, onwards

The revised TFRSs are mostly the revision of wording and terminology and clarification of accounting requirements. TFRSs which have been amended and are relevant to the Company are as follows:

Thai Accounting Standard No.1 “Presentation of Financial Statements”

The amendments change the requirements regarding the disclosure of accounting policies from “significant accounting policies” to “material accounting policy information”. Accounting policy information is material if, when considered together with other information included in an entity's financial statements, it can reasonably be expected to influence decisions that the primary users of general-purpose financial statements make on the basis of those financial statements.

Thai Accounting Standard No.8 “Accounting Policies, Changes in Accounting Estimates and Errors”

The amendments change the definition of accounting estimates to be “monetary amounts in financial statements that are subject to measurement uncertainty”, to help an entity to be able to segregate the difference of “change in accounting estimates” from “change in accounting policies”.

Thai Accounting Standard No.12 “Income Taxes”

The amendments add the requirements for the initial recognition of deferred tax, which give rise to equal taxable and deductible temporary differences such as right-of-use assets and lease liabilities and decommissioning obligation. The amendments apply to transactions that occur on or after the beginning of the earliest comparative period presented. At the beginning of the earliest comparative period, an entity recognizes a deferred tax asset, to the extent that it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the deductible temporary difference can be utilized, and a deferred tax liability for all deductible and taxable temporary differences associated with such transactions.

In addition, such amendments also add the exemption for the International Tax Reform - Pillar Two Model. An entity should not recognize and not disclose the deferred tax assets and deferred tax liability which are relevant to Pillar Two income tax.

The Company's management will adopt such TFRSs in the preparation of the Company's financial statements when it becomes effective. The Company's management is in the process to assess the impact of these TFRSs on the financial statements of the Company in the period of initial application.

Thai Financial Reporting Standard which will be effective for the financial statements for the period beginning on or after January 1, 2025, onwards

Thai Financial Reporting Standard No.17 "Insurance Contracts" establishes the principles for the recognition, measurement, presentation and disclosure of insurance contracts and supersedes Thai Financial Reporting Standard No.4 "Insurance Contracts". The Company does not have accounting transaction which should be adopted this Financial Reporting Standard.

3.6.3 Other receivables

Other receivables include overdue receivables from securities business of cash accounts and restructured or installment receivables.

The allowance for expected credit loss has been disclosed in Note 3.19.

3.7 Fair value measurements

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date, regardless of whether that price is directly observable or estimated using another valuation technique. In estimating the fair value of an asset or a liability, the Company takes into account the characteristics of the asset or liability if market participants would take those characteristics into account when pricing the asset or liability at the measurement date. Fair value for measurement and/or disclosure purposes in these financial statements is determined on such a basis, except for share-based payment transactions that are within the scope of TFRS 2 leasing transactions that are within the scope of TFRS 16 and measurements that have some similarities to fair value but are not fair value, such as value in use in TAS 36.

In addition, fair value measurements are categorized into Level 1, 2 or 3 based on the degree to which the inputs to the fair value measurements are observable and the significance of the inputs to the fair value measurement in its entirety, which are described as follows:

- Level 1 inputs are quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities that the entity can access at the measurement date.
- Level 2 inputs are inputs, other than quoted prices included within Level 1, which are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly.
- Level 3 inputs are unobservable inputs for the asset or liability.

3.8 Premises improvement and equipment

Premises improvement and equipment are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and allowance for impairment (if any).

The Company calculates depreciation using the straight-line method based on the estimated useful lives of the assets as follows:

Leasehold improvement	5 years
Furniture, fixtures and office equipment	5 years
Vehicles	5 years

Repairs and maintenance are charged as expenses to the statement of comprehensive income during the accounting period in which they are incurred. The cost of major renovations is included in the carrying amount of the asset when it is probable that future economic benefits in excess of the originally assessed standard of performance of the existing asset will flow to the Company. Major renovations are depreciated over the useful life of the related asset.

The Company will review for impairment of assets whenever events of changes in circumstances indicating that the carrying amount of an asset may not be recoverable. Whenever the carrying amounts of an asset exceed its recoverable amount, an impairment loss is recognized in the statement of comprehensive income immediately.

3.9 Goodwill

Goodwill represents the excess of the cost of acquisition over the Company's interest in the fair value of the identifiable net assets acquired as at the date of acquisition.

Other costs directly attributable to the business combination are recorded as acquisition costs.

For goodwill in a business acquisition, it is a benefit which the Company expects to receive from being transferred of the marketing officers including customer accounts resulting from business transfer from Merchant Partners Securities Public Company Limited, PI Securities Public Company Limited (formerly, Country Group Securities Public Company Limited) and AEC Securities Public Company Limited.

Goodwill is stated at cost less allowance for impairment. The Company will perform impairment reviews of the goodwill by considering from transferred marketing officers' performance annually and recognize its loss on impairment when the recoverable amount of the goodwill is less than its carrying amount.

3.10 Intangible assets

Intangible assets are stated at cost less accumulated amortization and allowance for impairment (if any).

Amortization

Amortization is charged to the statement of comprehensive income on a straight-line method from the date that intangible assets are available for use over the estimated useful lives of the assets. The estimated useful lives are as follows:

Computer software	5 years

The Company's TFEX membership fee is stated at cost.

The carrying amount of each intangible asset is reviewed annually and adjusted for impairment where it is considered necessary.

3.11 Securities business payables and Derivatives business payables

Securities business payables and Derivatives business payables are the obligations of the Company in respect of its securities business and derivatives business with outside parties.

3.12 Leases

The Company as lessee

The Company assesses whether a contract is or contains a lease, at inception of the contract. The Company recognizes a right-of-use asset and corresponding lease liability with respect to all lease arrangements in which it is the lease, except for short-term leases (defined as leases with a lease term of 12 months or less) and leases of low value assets i.e. tablets and personal computers, small items of office furniture and telephones. For these leases, the Company recognizes the lease payments as an operating expense on a straight-line basis over the term of the lease unless another systematic basis is more representative of the time pattern in which economic benefits from the leases assets are consumed.

The lease liability is initially measured at the present value of the lease payments that are not paid at the commencement date, discounted by using the rate implicit in the lease. If this rate cannot be readily determined, the Company uses its incremental borrowing rate.

Lease payments included in the measurement of the lease liability comprise:

- Fixed lease payments (including in-substance fixed payments), less any lease incentives receivable;
- Variable lease payments that depend on an index or rate, initially measured using the index or rate at the commencement date;
- The amount expected to be payable by the lease under residual value guarantees;
- The exercise price of purchase options, if the lease is reasonably certain to exercise the options.
- Payments of penalties for terminating the lease, if the lease term reflects the exercise of an option to terminate the lease.

The lease liability is presented as a separate line in the statement of financial position.

The lease liability is subsequently measured by increasing the carrying amount to reflect interest on the lease liability (using the effective interest method) and by reducing the carrying amount to reflect the lease payments made.

The Company remeasures the lease liability (and makes a corresponding adjustment to the related right-of-use asset) whenever:

- The lease term has changed or there is a significant event or change in circumstances resulting in a change in the assessment of exercise of a purchase option, in which case the lease liability is remeasured by discounting the revised lease payments using a revised discount rate.
- The lease payments change due to changes in an index or rate or a change in expected payment under a guaranteed residual value, in which cases the lease liability is remeasured by discounting the revised lease payments using an unchanged discount rate (unless the lease payments change is due to a change in a floating interest rate, in which case a revised discount rate is used).
- A lease contract is modified and the lease modification is not accounted for as a separate lease, in which case the lease liability is remeasured based on the lease term of the modified lease by discounting the revised lease payments using a revised discount rate at the effective date of the modification.

The Company did not make any such adjustments during the years presented.

The right-of-use assets comprise the initial measurement of the corresponding lease liability, lease payments made at or before the commencement day, less any lease incentives received and any initial direct costs. They are subsequently measured at cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses.

Whenever the Company incurs an obligation for costs to dismantle and remove an underlying asset, restore the site on which it is located or restore the underlying asset to the condition required by the terms and conditions of the lease, a provision is recognized and measured under TAS 37 "Provision, Contingent Liabilities and Contingent Assets". To the extent that the costs relate to a right-of-use asset, the costs are included in the related right-of-use asset, unless those costs are incurred to produce inventories.

Right-of-use assets are depreciated over the shorter period of lease term and useful life of the underlying asset. If a lease transfers ownership of the underlying asset or the cost of the right-of-use asset reflects that the Company expects to exercise a purchase option, the related right-of-use assets is depreciated over the useful life of the underlying asset.

The depreciation starts at the commencement date of the lease. The right-of-use assets are presented as a separate line in the statement of financial position.

The Company applies Thai Accounting Standard No. 36 “Impairment of Assets” to determine whether a right-of-use asset is impaired and accounts for any identified impairment loss as described in the “Premises improvement and equipment” policy.

Variable rents that do not depend on an index or rate are not included in the measurement the lease liability and the right-of-use asset. The related payments are recognized as an expense in the period in which the event or condition that triggers those payments occurs and are included in the line “Other expenses” in the statement of comprehensive income.

As a practical expedient, TFRS 16 permits a lessee not to separate non-lease components, and instead account for any lease and associated non-lease components as a single arrangement. The Company has used this practical expedient.

3.13 Provision for employee benefits

Provision for employee benefits is calculated under the Thai Labor Protection Act by an independent actuary at the end of reporting period using the Projected Unit Credit Method, which is estimate of the present value of expected cash flows of benefits to be paid in the future, taken into account the actuarial assumptions, including salaries, turnover rate, mortality rate, years of service and other factors.

The expenses for the unfunded defined benefit plan are recognized as personnel expenses in the statement of comprehensive income.

3.14 Provisions

The Company recognizes provision as liabilities in the financial statements when the amount of the liability can be reliably estimated and are commitments when it is likely that losses of resources which are of economic benefit to the Company will result from settlement of such commitments.

The Company reverses the provision when it is no longer probable that losses of resources which are of economic benefit to the Company will result from settlement of commitments presented in the statement of comprehensive income.

3.15 Provident fund

The contribution for employee provident fund is recorded as an expense when incurred.

3.16 Foreign currency transactions

Transactions denominated in foreign currencies incurred during the year are converted into Baht at the rates of exchange at transaction dates and monetary assets and liabilities at the statement of financial position date denominated in foreign currencies are converted into Baht at the reference exchange rates established by the Bank of Thailand on that date. Gains or losses on foreign exchange arising on settlements and conversion are recognized as income or expense in statement of comprehensive income.

3.17 Income tax

Income tax represents the sum of the tax currently payable and deferred tax.

Current income tax

Current income tax is based on taxable profit for the year. Taxable profit differs from profit as reported in the statement of comprehensive income because it excludes items of income or expense that are taxable or deductible in other years and further excludes items that are never taxable or deductible. The Company's current income tax is calculated using tax rates that have been enacted or substantively enacted at the financial statements date.

Deferred tax

Deferred tax is recognized on temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities in the financial statements and the corresponding tax bases used in the computation of taxable profit (tax base). Deferred tax liabilities are generally recognized for all taxable temporary differences, and deferred tax assets are generally recognized for temporary differences to the extent that it is probable that taxable profits will be available against which those temporary differences can be utilized. The carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed by the end of each reporting period. Deferred tax asset shall be reduced to the extent that utilized taxable profits decreased. Any such reduction shall be reversed to the extent that it becomes probable that sufficient taxable profit will be available to allow total or part of the asset to be recovered.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply to the year when the asset is realized or the liability is settled, based on tax rates that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period.

Current tax assets and liabilities and deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset when there is a legally enforceable right to set off the recognized amounts and the Company intends to settle on a net basis or to realize the asset and settle the liability simultaneously and when they relate to income taxes levied by the same taxation authority.

Income tax expense or income related to profit or loss are presented in the statement of comprehensive income and net presented with items recognized directly in owners' equity in other comprehensive income.

3.18 Basic earnings per share

Basic earnings per share are determined by dividing net profit for the year by the weighted average number of ordinary shares held by outside parties outstanding during the year. In case of a capital increase, the number of shares is weighted according to time of subscription received.

3.19 Financial instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are recognized in the Company's statement of financial position when the Company becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

Financial assets and financial liabilities are initially measured at fair value. Transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition or issue of financial assets and financial liabilities (other than financial assets and financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss) are added to or deducted from the fair value of the financial assets or financial liabilities, as appropriate, on initial recognition. Transaction costs directly attributable to the acquisition of financial assets or financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss are recognized immediately in profit or loss.

Financial assets

All recognized financial assets are measured subsequently in their entirety at either amortized cost or fair value, depending on the classification of the financial assets.

Classification of financial assets

Debt instruments that meet the following conditions are measured subsequently at amortized cost;

- The financial asset is held within a business model whose objective is to hold financial assets in order to collect contractual cash flows; and
- The contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

Debt instruments that meet the following conditions are measured subsequently at fair value through other comprehensive income (FVTOCI);

- The financial asset is held within a business model whose objective is achieved by both collecting contractual cash flows and selling the financial assets.
- The contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

By default, all other financial assets are measured subsequently at fair value through profit or loss (FVTPL)

Despite the foregoing, the Company may make the following irrevocable election/designation at initial recognition of a financial asset;

- The Company may irrevocable elect to present subsequent changes in fair value of an equity investment in other comprehensive income if certain criteria are met (see (ii) below); and
- The Company may irrevocable designate a debt investment that meets the amortized cost or FVTOCI criteria as measured at FVTPL if doing so eliminates or significantly reduces an accounting mismatch (see (iii) below).

(i) Amortized cost and effective interest method

The effective interest method is a method of calculating the amortized cost of a debt instrument and of allocating interest income over the relevant period.

Interest income is recognized in profit or loss and is included in the “interest income” line item.

(ii) Equity instruments designated as at FVTOCI

On initial recognition, the Company may make an irrevocable election (on an instrument-by-instrument basis) to designate investments in equity instruments as at FVTOCI. Designation at FVTOCI is not permitted if the equity investment is held for trading or if it is contingent consideration recognized by an acquirer in a business combination.

A financial asset is held for trading if;

- It has been acquired principally for the purpose of selling it in the near term; or
- On initial recognition it is part of a portfolio of identified financial instruments that the Company manages together and has evidence of a recent actual pattern of short-term profit-taking; or
- It is a derivative (except for a derivative that is a financial guarantee contract or a designated and effective hedging instrument).

Investments in equity instruments at FVTOCI are initially measured at fair value plus transaction costs.

Subsequently, they are measured at fair value with gains and losses arising from changes in fair value recognized in other comprehensive income and accumulated in the investments revaluation reserve. The cumulative gain or loss is not be classified to profit or loss on disposal of the equity investments, instead, it is transferred to retained earnings.

Dividends on these investments in equity instruments are recognized in profit or loss in accordance with TFRS 9, unless the dividends clearly represent a recovery of part of the cost of the investment. Dividends are included in the “gains and return on financial instruments” line item in profit or loss.

(iii) Financial assets at FVTPL

Financial assets that do not meet the criteria for being measured at amortized cost or FVTOCI are measured at FVTPL. Specifically;

- Investments in equity instruments are classified as at FVTPL, unless the Company designates an equity investment that is neither held-for-trading nor a contingent consideration arising from a business combination as at FVTOCI on initial recognition.
- Debt instruments that do not meet the amortized cost criteria or the FVTOCI criteria are classified as at FVTPL. In addition, debt instruments that meet either the amortized cost criteria or the FVTOCI criteria may be designated as at FVTPL upon initial recognition if such designation eliminates or significantly reduces a measurement or recognition inconsistency (so called “accounting mismatch”) that would arise from measuring assets or liabilities or recognizing the gains and losses on them on different bases. The Company has not designated any debt instruments as at FVTPL.

Financial assets at FVTPL are measured at fair value at the end of each reporting period, with any fair value gains or losses recognized in profit or loss to the extent they are not part of a designated hedging relationship (see hedge accounting policy). The net gain or loss recognized in profit or loss includes any dividend or interest earned on the financial asset and is included in the “gain and return on financial instruments” line item. Fair value is determined in the manner described in Note 38.

Impairment of financial assets

The Company recognizes a loss allowance for expected credit losses on securities business receivables and derivative business receivables. The amount of expected credit losses is updated at each reporting period date to reflect changes in credit risk since initial recognition of the respective financial instrument, taking into account cash flows from collateral.

The Company always recognizes lifetime ECL for securities business receivables and derivative business receivables. The expected credit losses on these financial assets are estimated using a provision matrix based on the Company’s historical credit loss experience, adjusted for factors that are specific to the debtors, general economic conditions and an assessment of both the current as well as the forecast direction of conditions at the reporting date.

For all other financial instruments, the Company recognizes lifetime ECL when there has been a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition. However, if the credit risk on the financial instrument has not increased significantly since initial recognition, the Company measures the loss allowance for that financial instrument at an amount equal to 12-month ECL.

Lifetime ECL represents the expected credit losses that will result from all possible default events over the expected life of a financial instrument. In contrast, 12-month ECL represents the portion of lifetime ECL that is expected to result from default events on a financial instrument that are possible within 12 months after the reporting date.

(i) Write-off policy

The Company writes off a financial asset when there is information indicating that the debtor is in severe financial difficulty and there is no realistic prospect of recovery, e.g. when the debtor has been placed under liquidation or has entered into bankruptcy proceedings, or in the case of trade receivables, when the amounts are over two years past due, whichever occurs sooner. Financial assets written off may still be subject to enforcement activities under the Company's recovery procedures, taking into account legal advice where appropriate. Any recoveries made are recognized in profit or loss.

(ii) Measurement and recognition of expected credit losses

The measurement of expected credit losses is a function of the probability of default, loss given default (i.e. the magnitude of the loss if there is a default) and the exposure at default. The assessment of the probability of default and loss given default is based on historical data adjusted by forward-looking information. As for the exposure at default, for financial assets, this is represented by the asset's gross carrying amount at the reporting date; for financial guarantee contracts, the exposure includes the amount drawn down as at the reporting date, together with any additional amounts expected to be drawn down in the future by default date determined based on historical trend, the Company's understanding of the specific future financing needs of the debtors, and other relevant forward-looking information.

For financial assets, the expected credit loss is estimated as the difference between all contractual cash flows that are due to the Company in accordance with the contract and all the cash flows that the Company expects to receive, discounted at the original effective interest rate. For a lease receivable, the cash flows used for determining the expected credit losses is consistent with the cash flows used in measuring the lease receivable in accordance with TFRS 16 "Leases".

If the Company has measured the loss allowance for a financial instrument at an amount equal to lifetime ECL in the previous reporting period, but determines at the current reporting date that the conditions for lifetime ECL are no longer met, the Company measures the loss allowance at an amount equal to 12-month ECL at the current reporting date, except for assets for which simplified approach was used.

The Company recognizes an impairment gain or loss in profit or loss for all financial instruments with a corresponding adjustment to their carrying amount through a loss allowance account, except for investments in debt instruments that are measured at FVTOCI, for which the loss allowance is recognized in other comprehensive income and accumulated in the investment revaluation reserve, and does not reduce the carrying amount of the financial asset in the statement of financial position.

Derecognition of financial assets

The Company derecognizes a financial asset only when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the asset expire, or when it transfers the financial asset and substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of the asset to another entity. If the Company neither transfers nor retains substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership and continues to control the transferred asset, the Company recognizes its retained interest in the asset and an associated liability for amounts it may have to pay. If the Company retains substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of a transferred financial asset, the Company continues to recognize the financial asset and also recognizes a collateralized borrowing for the proceeds received.

On derecognition of a financial asset measured at amortized cost, the difference between the asset's carrying amount and the sum of the consideration received and receivable is recognized in profit or loss. In addition, on derecognition of an investment in a debt instrument classified as at FVTOCI, the cumulative gain or loss previously accumulated in the investments revaluation reserve is reclassified to profit or loss. In contrast, on derecognition of an investment in equity instrument which the Company has elected on initial recognition to measure at FVTOCI, the cumulative gain or loss previously accumulated in the investments revaluation reserve is not reclassified to profit or loss, but is transferred to retained earnings.

Financial liabilities

All financial liabilities are measured subsequently at amortized cost using the effective interest method.

Financial liabilities measured subsequently at amortized cost

Financial liabilities that are not (i) contingent consideration of an acquirer in a business combination, (ii) held-for-trading, or (iii) designated as at FVTPL, are measured subsequently at amortized cost using the effective interest method.

The effective interest method is a method of calculating the amortized cost of a financial liability and of allocating interest expense over the relevant period. The effective interest rate is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash payments (including all fees and points paid or received that form an integral part of the effective interest rate, transaction costs and other premiums or discounts) through the expected life of the financial liability, or (where appropriate) a shorter period, to the amortized cost of a financial liability.

Derecognition of financial liabilities

The Company derecognizes financial liabilities when, and only when, the Company's obligations are discharged, cancelled or have expired. The difference between the carrying amount of the financial liability derecognized and the consideration paid and payable is recognized in profit or loss.

Derivative financial instruments

The Company enters into a variety of derivative financial instruments to manage its exposure to interest rate and foreign exchange rate risks, including foreign exchange forward contracts, options and interest rate swaps.

Derivatives are recognized initially at fair value at the date a derivative contract is entered into and are subsequently remeasured to their fair value at each reporting date. The resulting gain or loss is recognized in profit or loss immediately unless the derivative is designated and effective as a hedging instrument, in which event the timing of the recognition in profit or loss depends on the nature of the hedge relationship.

A derivative with a positive fair value is recognized as a financial asset whereas a derivative with a negative fair value is recognized as a financial liability. Derivatives are not offset in the financial statements unless the Company has both legal right and intention to offset. A derivative is presented as a non-current asset or non-current liability if the remaining maturity of the instrument is more than 12 months and it is not expected to be realized or settled within 12 months. Other derivatives are presented as current assets or current liabilities.

3.20 Use of management's judgments and key sources of estimation uncertainty

3.20.1 Use of management's judgments

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with Thai Financial Reporting Standards requires the Company's management to exercise various judgments in applying accounting policies that can significantly affect the recognition and disclosures in the financial statements. Significant judgments in applying accounting policies are as follows:

(1) Deferred tax assets

The Company recognizes deferred tax assets for deductible temporary differences and unused tax losses to the extent that it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the temporary differences and losses can be utilized. The Company's management uses judgements based upon the likely timing and level of estimate future taxable profits to determine the amount of deferred tax assets that can be recognized at the end of reporting date.

(2) Provision for employee benefits

The present value of the provision for employee benefits depends on a number of factors that are determined on an actuarial basis using a number of assumptions, including the discount rate. Any changes in these assumptions will have an impact on the carrying amount of such obligations.

The Company determines the appropriate discount rate at the end of each year. This is the interest rate that should be used to determine the present value of estimated future cash outflows expected to be required to settle the employee benefit obligations. In determining the appropriate discount rate, the Company considers the market yield of government bonds that are denominated in the currency in which the benefits will be paid, and that have terms to maturity approximating the terms of the related obligations. Additional information is disclosed in Note 20.

Past service cost related to the plan amendment is recognized as an expense in the statement of comprehensive income when the plan amendment is effective.

3.20.2 Key sources of estimation uncertainty

The Company has estimates with the assumptions concerning the future. Although these estimates are based on management's reasonable consideration of current events, actual results may differ from these estimates. The estimates and assumptions that have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year are outlined as follows:

(1) Impairment of goodwill

Determining whether goodwill is impaired requires an estimation of the value in use of the cash-generating units to which goodwill has been allocated. The Company's management will perform impairment reviews of the goodwill by considering from transferred marketing officers' performance annually and recognize its loss on impairment when the recoverable amount of the goodwill is less than its carrying amount.

The carrying amount of goodwill as at December 31, 2023 was Baht 252.68 million (2022: Baht 285.21 million) after an impairment loss of Baht 32.53 million was recognized during the year ended December 31, 2023 (2022: Baht 15.73 million). Details of the impairment loss calculation are set out in Note 12.

(2) Fair value measurements and valuation processes

In estimating the fair value of an asset or liability, the Company uses market-observable data to the extent it is available. Where Level 1 inputs are not available, the Company engages third party qualified valuers to perform the valuation to determine the appropriate valuation techniques and inputs for fair value measurements.

Information about valuation techniques and inputs used in determining the fair value of various assets and liabilities are disclosed in Note 38.
